

Dear Michael and the team at Neumode,

After moving into our new home we can now appreciate the level of expertise, attention to detail and hard work involved in creating our beautiful home. We just love it!

It was great to work with a team of professionals from management, construction and design with innovative ideas to compliment the original plans from our architect.

Your proactive communication and excellent project management skills enabled the experience of building our home an enjoyable one. We felt you were always available to answer any questions or concerns, advise of any options or make changes along the way. Last minute alterations were dealt with promptly and cost effectively.

Gerard and yourself listened to our 'wants' and with your 'can do' approach were able to deliver our dream home, which will bring years of great memories with family and friends.

As we often hear no build process is without its difficulties but Neumode were able to confidently and efficiently handle any issues as they arose such as hitting rock 300mm underground for the purpose of excavating our basement and pool.

The follow up upon completion has been outstanding and it is without hesitation that we would recommend Neumode.

We love living in our new home!!

Many thanks
Jackie and Andrew
